Editorial Note

This edition of the EJS contains the extended versions of a set of articles that were selected among those presented at the 48th Argentine Conference on Information Technology – JAIIO 2019.

The Argentine Society of Information Technology and Operations Research, SADIO, annually organizes the Argentine Conference on Information Technology, JAIIO, a meeting that has an international character and that has been held since 1961.

The general chairs of this edition of JAIIO were Roxana Giandini (LIFIA, Fac. de Informática, Univ. Nac. de La Plata) and Cristian Martínez (Dto. de Informática, Univ. Nac. de Salta).

We express our special thanks to the program chairs of the symposiums: ASAI (Simposio Argentino de Inteligencia Artificial), ASSE (Simposio Argentino de Ingenieria de Software), SAEI (Simposio Argentino de Enseñanza en Informática), SAHTI (Simposio Argentino de Historia, Tecnologías e Informática), and STS (Simposio Argentino sobre Tecnología y Sociedad):

> Rocío Cecchini (ICIC CONICET, UNS)
